

Youth Leadership for Equity

The background of the poster features two stylized hands reaching towards each other. One hand is orange and the other is green. The hands are positioned diagonally across the page, with the orange hand on the right and the green hand on the left. The hands are simple in design, with no fingers or palms visible, just the outlines of the hands.

Would you like to be involved with making positive changes in your school and community?

We are inviting our shoreline's youth to share their experience with diversity, including race, ethnicity, gender, age, ability,...

Our goal is to listen and build stronger advocates of inclusion.

Join SERC and other shoreline youth to begin having 'Courageous Conversations' that can lead to change!
